Notice of NCAA Probation

From 2007 to 2010 the University of Nebraska unintentionally reimbursed student-athletes for recommended textbooks as well as required textbooks through a failure to properly administer and monitor book scholarships. Only reimbursement for required books is permissible under NCAA rules. As a result, the NCAA placed the University of Nebraska on two-year probation, beginning in January of 2012. The NCAA did not impose additional penalties such as loss of scholarships, forfeiture of games, or a ban on postseason play. Rather, as a condition of probation. Nebraska will continue to educate student-athletes and staff thoroughly on NCAA bylaws and will notify prospective student-athletes of its probationary status.

Experienced Huskers Hope to Contend for Big Ten Title

After three consecutive 20-win seasons, the Nebraska women's tennis team hopes to come up big in its 2013 Big Ten campaign. The team has multiple players in the national preseason ITA Division I Women's Tennis Rankings and has the talent and depth to be one of the most competitive programs in the nation this season.

"There were a few key matches last year where we just couldn't close out games at the right time but if we do, even bigger things are in store for the Huskers," Head Coach Scott Jacobson said. "I would say we will put an emphasis on that this year. "

This year's team offers a mixture of both experience and style diversity. Five of the eight Huskers are upperclassmen, and six are previous Big Ten award winners. Four seniors form the nucleus of the roster.

Already one of the winningest athletes in Nebraska women's tennis history, Mary Weatherholt put together 30 singles and 26 doubles wins in 2012. The senior from Prairie Village, Kan., spent the fall of 2012 recovering from a knee injury suffered in the 2012 NCAA Championships. She has earned a No. 30 preseason singles ranking. Weatherholt's tremendous skill on the court and dedication in the classroom project a stellar and successful season on the court in 2013.

"Mary had a tremendous year returning from her ACL surgery in 2011 and missing the whole year," Jacobson said. "She shows tremendous spirit and fight that helps both her and the team."

Patricia Veresova had an amazing junior season in 2012, tacking 28 singles wins in her first season of competition in the Big Ten. A second-team All-Big Ten selection last season, the senior from Piestany, Slovakia, will be a staple in the top half of NU's lineup in 2013. Veresova will look to continue her role as a consistent contributor for the Huskers in both singles and doubles play this season. She enters 2013 ranked No. 66 in the ITA preseason singles rankings.

"Patricia worked herself into great physical shape and began to compete at a level we knew she was capable of competing at since she arrived on campus," Jacobson said.

Stefanie Weinstein enters the 2013 season ranked No. 45 in doubles play alongside Janine Weinreich. A senior from Much, Germany, Weinstein captured 25 singles and 29 doubles victories in 2011-12. Weinstein has shown marked improvement over the course of her career as a Husker and is expected to continue that growth this season.

"Stefanie hit her stride this year," Jacobson said. "Stefanie has come a long way since entering our program three years ago. Stefanie is the solid core in the middle of our lineup. Her results are a reflection of her intensity and passion that she competes with."

Weinreich has been a consistent producer for the Huskers and consistently appeared in the middle of NU's lineup in 2012. A senior from Tespe, Germany, Weinreich earned a preseason ranking of No. 45 nationally in doubles paired with Weinstein.

"Janine is another person that really came into the year with a lot of intensity and picked it up a notch from years past," Jacobson said. "She is able to really assert herself and her game plan on her opponents and is a very consistent performer. I think the best is still to come for Janine in her senior year."

Maike Zeppernick made her debut with the Huskers in 2011, stepping up when injuries forced changes in the NU lineup. In 2012 she had a successful season with 14 singles wins and seven doubles victories. The junior from Hamburg, Germany, will continue to be a formidable foe in 2013.

"Maike is a true gamer," Jacobson said. "She wasn't consistently in the lineup in 2012, but when she was called upon, she was ready. Maike has a style of play that is difficult to play against. Maike's competitive nature along with this difficult style can really pay dividends for herself and her teammates."

Izabella Zgierska, a sophomore from Meisbach, Germany, returns adding depth to the Husker roster and gives Jacobson a solid option. As a freshman, Zgierska notched seven singles triumphs and 14 doubles wins. Zgierska could play a major role for the Huskers this season.

"Izabella joined the team at semester and contributed greatly which is difficult to do," Jacobson said. "We are proud of Izabella and look forward to her future success as well."

The Huskers have two incoming freshmen hoping to breakthrough in 2013. Maggy Lehmicke, a native of Kirkland, Wash., made a solid first impression in fall play.

"Maggy is going to be a tremendous gift to our program both as a player and a person," Jacobson said. "She is going to fit in well with the philosophy of our program. We are expecting her to have an immediate impact on our program and challenge for a position in both singles and doubles."

Another addition to the team is Lauren Wagner, a native of Roslyn Heights, N.Y. Wagner is expected to contend for time in the lineup in 2013.

"Lauren is independent, committed and understands," Jacobson said. "She is excited about embracing the challenges directly in front of her. We feel fortunate she has chosen our Husker family and believe she will be a tremendous asset to the team both as a player and a person."

The No. 16 Huskers begin the 2013 season on Jan. 12 with home matches against Eastern Michigan and Creighton before hosting the ITA Kickoff Classic for the first time in school history on Jan. 26-27. The Huskers then head on the road for a lone Big Ten match against Ohio State, before returning to Lincoln for six consecutive home matches. NU's homestand begins on Feb. 9 and will feature matches against Wichita State, UALR, Wyoming, Kansas State, Illinois State and Colorado State.

The Huskers travel again in conference play at Iowa, before returning home for their first conference home matches of the season against Illinois and Northwestern. NU hits the road again for matches against San Diego State and Oklahoma State in March. After a Big Ten matchup at Penn State, the Huskers return home to host Purdue and Indiana. Nebraska will travel to Michigan, Michigan State and Minnesota before concluding the regular season at home against Wisconsin.

The Huskers hope to attend their second Big Ten Championships on April 25-28 in Bloomington, Ind., before awaiting the NCAA Championships announcements in May.

Mary Weatherholt earned Big Ten Female Tennis Athlete of the Year honors as a junior in 2012. The unanimous first-team All-Big Ten selection also earned a trip to the NCAA Singles Championships. The fifth-year senior from Prairie Village, Kan., leads the 2012-13 Huskers against a loaded schedule while pursuing Nebraska's individual combined career victories record.

Scott Jacobson

Head Coach | Blue Earth, Minn. | 22nd Season

Honors and Awards
- Big Ten Co-Coach of the Year (2012)
- Big 12 Coach of the Year (2005, 2010)
- Five NCAA Tournament Appearances (2005, 2006, 2010, 2011, 2012)
- Nebraska Herman Award (2005, 2006, 2011, 2012)

Scott Jacobson leads the 2013 Nebraska women's tennis team in pursuit of its fourth straight NCAA Tournament appearance and its sixth bid in the past nine seasons.

In his 22nd season as the Husker head coach, Jacobson has built Nebraska into one of the nation's top programs on the court and in the classroom. In NU's inaugural season in the Big Ten Conference in 2012, Jacobson captured Big Ten Co-Coach-of-the-Year honors after guiding Nebraska to a school-record 24 wins and just five losses, including a 9-2 conference mark. The Huskers advanced to the second round of the 2012 NCAA Tournament, and finished with the highest ranking in school history at No. 16.

Junior Mary Weatherholt was named the Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete of the Year and competed in the NCAA Singles Championships. Weatherholt led three Huskers, including Patricia Veresova and Janine Weinreich, ranked in the ITA Singles Top 125. Madeleine Geibert and Stefanie Weinstein were also ranked among the top 40 doubles teams in the nation.

In addition to their success on the court, the 2012 Huskers won Nebraska's Herman Award, presented to the NU team with the highest combined grade-point average (3.644). It was the second straight year the tennis team claimed the award and its fourth since 2005.

Jacobson has guided the team to 16 consecutive winning seasons, dating back to NU's first year of Big 12 play in 1996-97. The 2005 and 2010 Big 12 Coach of the Year has led the Huskers to 16 or more wins in seven of the past eight years. He earned his 300th career victory in 2011-12.

He led Nebraska to its first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance with an 18-4 record in 2005. The 2006 Huskers advanced to the Big 12 semifinals, the farthest they have advanced in team history. They finished with a 17-10 record and a berth in the 2006 NCAA Championships, while Kim Hartmann was named Big 12 Freshman of the Year.

In 2009, Jacobson helped the Huskers to their second straight 16-7 record, balancing a lineup of three talented newcomers along with three experienced seniors and four other returning letterwinners. The Huskers' 7-4 Big 12 record was good for fourth in the conference, the team's second-highest finish in history.

The Huskers continued their rise in 2010 with a then-school-record 22 wins against just six losses. The 2010 Huskers finished third in the Big 12 (9-2) and captured their first-ever NCAA Tournament victory with a win over Illinois. Jacobson captured Big Ten Coach-of-the-Year honors for the second time in six seasons.

Jacobson and the Huskers produced their second straight 20-win campaign with a 20-8 mark in 2011. NU closed its final season of Big 12 play with a 7-4 mark, which was good for fourth in the final standings. Nebraska qualified for its third straight NCAA Tournament and placed Madeleine Geibert and Patricia Veresova on the All-Big 12 team.

In Nebraska's Big 12-era (1997-2012), the Huskers claimed seven Big 12 individual titles and 26 first-team All-Big 12 awards (13 players).

The Huskers have earned even greater success in the classroom, capturing 47 academic all-conference accolades, including 33 first-team awards. Nationally, Imke Reimers was a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American.

Before becoming head coach in 1991, Jacobson helped the NU men's team to an 84-86 record as an assistant coach for nine years. After playing professionally for two seasons, Jacobson served as an assistant with the Husker men's program from 1979 to 1989. He also spent 11 years as the assistant director of the Tennis and Life Camp in St. Peter, Minn. He has been an employee of the camp for 22 years.

In 1995, Jacobson was awarded the David Aasen Award by the staff of the Tennis and Life Camp. The award honors enthusiasm, energy, sense of humor, high standards of sportsmanship, a love of teaching and a genuine concern for others.

Originally from Blue Earth, Minn., Jacobson has been involved in many activities in Nebraska. In the past he has been an instructor for the Lincoln Racquet Club and coordinator for the Husker Netters Booster Club.

Jacobson's Coaching Philosophy

"By helping our student-athletes develop the values of dedication, cooperation, compassion and the ability to handle adversity with courage, we help them grow as both tennis players and as people. Through a belief in one another and a positive approach to competition, we can build meaningful relationships off the tennis court and continue a winning tradition on it."

Perez assisted the development of Kim Hartmann, who was named the 2006 Big 12 Freshman of the Year.

Perez helped the Huskers to a 16-7 record in 2009, including a 7-4 Big 12 mark, and was instrumental in coaching Nebraska to its first-ever NCAA Tournament victory over Illinois.

Perez was named the ITA Central Region's Assistant Coach of the Year in 2007, as one of eight coaches in the eight ITA regions to receive the award. Perez was automatically qualified along with the other seven coaches for the National Assistant Coach of the Year Award.

Perez assisted the Huskers to their record-breaking 22-6 finish in 2010, in which the team finished third in the Big 12 Conference and 35th in the nation. His coaching role was also key in the seasons of All-Big 12 selections Madeleine Geibert, Mary Weatherholt and Stefanie Weinstein. For his efforts, Perez was named the ITA Central Region's Assistant Coach of the Year for the second time in four years.

Perez played a key part in guiding NU to its second-straight 20-win season in 2011, where the team capped the year with an NCAA Tournament bid and finished 43rd in the ITA Division I Women's National Rankings. Under Perez's tutelage, Madeleine Geibert and Patricia Veresova both earned All-Big 12 honors.

Before coming to Lincoln, Perez spent the 2004-05 season at Florida State. At FSU, Perez helped Mihaela Moldovan earn All-America honors, the Seminoles' first All-American in nine years. Perez helped the Seminoles to a 2005 NCAA Tournament appearance and a final ranking of 43rd in the ITA team poll.

Perez's coaching experience also includes stints at Cameron University, Wyoming and Air Force. At Air Force, Perez worked as the Director of Player Development for the Intermountain Section of the U.S. Tennis Association, where he oversaw endorsement opportunities, scheduling, rankings and junior competition.

As a player, Perez earned MVP honors twice and advanced to the finals of the Midwest Region Championships in 1996 while playing at Cameron. He was ranked as high as No. 17 in singles and earned a top-five national ranking in Men's Open Doubles by the U.S. Tennis Association.

At Collin County (Texas) CC, Perez helped the team to an NJCAA national team championship in 1995, when he won the doubles national title and earned first-team All-America honors. Perez earned a No. 1 national ranking in doubles and was ranked in the top 30 in singles play at the junior college level.

Perez, who won at least 20 matches in each of his four years of collegiate tennis, was previously a member of the Abilene (Texas) High School squad that won the 1991 Class 5A state title. He still plays competitive tennis on the national scene in the Men's 30 Division and in select tournaments throughout the year.

Perez graduated from Cameron in 1999 with a business administration degree, and is married to the former Gretchen McGeough. They have two sons, a four year old named Tristen, and Tanner who was born in Febuary 2012.

Athletic Director | Wisconsin-Whitewater (1990) | First Season

Administrative Experience

- Nebraska, Athletic Director (2013-present)
- Miami, Athletic Director (2011-12)
- Wisconsin, Deputy Athletic Director (2009-11)
- Wisconsin, Executive Associate Athletic Director (2007-09)
- Wisconsin, Senior Associate Athletic Director (2006-07)
- South Carolina, Interim Athletic Director (2005-06)
- South Carolina, Senior Associate Athletic Director (2004-05)
- Wisconsin-Whitewater, Athletic Director (1999-2003)

Shawn Eichorst was named the 14th athletic director in the history of the University of Nebraska by Chancellor Harvey Perlman on Oct. 4, 2012. Eichorst was formally introduced as the Special Assistant to the Chancellor on Oct. 9.

Eichorst replaces legendary coach and athletic director Tom Osborne on Jan. 1, 2013. Osborne announced his retirement as Nebraska's athletic director on Sept. 26, after spending five years in the role.

Eichorst said he was honored to get the privilege to be a part of Nebraska Athletics.

"(Nebraska is) one of the great universities in America and one of the strongest athletic departments in all of college sports who has the welfare of its student-athletes at the heart of everything they do. I am humbled by both the responsibility and opportunities that lie ahead. I hope to carry on the rich tradition of Husker excellence set by Coach Osborne and so many others."

Nebraska Chancellor Harvey Perlman said it was Eichorst's commitment to putting student-athletes first that made Eichorst stand out.

"When I asked him how, if he were here five years from now, would I be able to measure his success, his response was that if the coaches and student-athletes had been successful and nobody knows his name, it would be a success."

Eichorst comes to Nebraska after spending 18 months as the athletic director at the University of Miami. He was named the 12th athletic director at Miami on April 12, 2011.

Eichorst went to Miami after serving from 2009 to 2011 as the Deputy Athletic Director at the University of Wisconsin, where his responsibilities under Director of Athletics Barry Alvarez included serving as the department's Chief Operating Officer and overseeing the day-to-day operations of the highly successful athletics program.

During Eichorst's time at the University of Wisconsin, the Badger athletic department consisted of 23 intercollegiate programs, 850 student-athletes, 320 full-time employees and operated from a $90 million budget.

Eichorst was involved in the design and planning of a new $36 million ice hockey/swim facility that was completed in the fall of 2012, as well as with the student-athlete performance center in the north end zone of Camp Randall Stadium which began construction in the fall of 2011 at a cost of more than $70 million. He joined the Badgers' staff in 2006 as a Senior Associate Athletic Director and was promoted to Executive Associate Athletic Director in 2007.

In his first year as Director of Athletics at Miami, Eichorst helped grow the academic reputation of an already sterling program with NCAA Top 10 recognition in Academic Progress Rates (APR) for five programs - football, baseball, men's diving, women's cross country and women's golf. During the 2011-12 academic year, 149 student-athletes made the Atlantic Coast Conference Honor Roll and 70 earned their degrees.

Under his watchful eye, the Hurricane Club grew by more than 500 members, surpassing 5,000 members nationwide and $19 million in student-athlete support was generated in 2011-12.

An additional $14.2 million in capital gifts was raised toward the Theodore G. Schwartz and Todd G. Schwartz Center for Athletic Excellence facility project, which is scheduled for completing in the fall of 2013.

During his first year, both the men's and women's basketball programs advanced to the postseason. The women posted the highest national ranking in school history (No. 5 overall) and advanced to the NCAA second round, while the men set a program record for conference wins and advanced to the NIT second round.

The women's tennis team advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals (Elite Eight) for the fourth straight season. The baseball program extended its NCAA postseason appearances streak to 40 consecutive seasons. The women's soccer team posted the first NCAA postseason win in program history, and the volleyball team advanced to the NCAA postseason for the third straight year and finished the season ranked 15th nationally.

Other accomplishments included long-term contract extensions for head football coach Al Golden, head men's basketball coach Jim Larranaga, and head women's basketball coach Katie Meier. Eichorst also coordinated a strategic review of all operations and reorganized the senior management team. Miami enhanced branding at Alex Rodriguez Park at Mark Light Field, the BankUnited Center and inside the Hecht Athletic Center. New scoreboards were also added at the James L. Knight Sports Complex and Cobb Stadium.

Eichorst previously worked at the University of South Carolina, serving as the Senior Associate Athletic Director for Administration from 2004 to 2006 and as the Interim Director of Athletics in June 2005.

Working with the Gamecocks, he oversaw the department's daily operations as well as the football (Lou Holtz and Steve Spurrier) and baseball (Ray Tanner) programs. The football team was bowl-eligible each year during Eichorst's tenure, and the baseball program competed in the 2004 College World Series. Additionally, he facilitated and supervised multi-million dollar facility projects, including a state-of-the-art football training facility, partnership/sponsorship agreements and substantial department organizational and policy growth.

A native of Lone Rock, Wis., Eichorst was an all-conference defensive back, three-time letterwinner and 1990 team captain for the UW-Whitewater football team. He graduated magna cum laude in business from UW-Whitewater in 1990 and earned a law degree from Marquette University in 1995.

In 2006, he was awarded the Sports Law Alumnus of the Year by Marquette. He also is a graduate of the Sports Management Institute and serves on its Executive Committee.

Eichorst practiced law in Milwaukee until 1999, when he was hired by UW-Whitewater as Director of Athletics, which he led until 2003. Under his tenure, UW-Whitewater developed into one of the nation's top Division III athletic programs, with four top 10 percent National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Directors Cup finishes; one NCAA team championship; four NCAA team national runner-up finishes and seven individual NCAA champions. The program also featured an NCAA Student-Athlete of the Year for Wisconsin, 84 All-Americans, 38 Academic All-America selections and nine NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship winners.

He is a past member of the NCAA Division I Student-Athlete Reinstatement Committee and State Bar of Wisconsin Board of Governors. He also previously served as an assistant adjunct professor of law at Marquette University Law School, where he taught classes in sports law. He currently serves on the Marquette University National Sports Law Institute Board of Advisors.

2013 OUTLOOK

One of the winningest athletes in Nebraska women's tennis history, Mary Weatherholt hopes to continue her dominance on the court after winning the Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete-of-the-Year award along with first-team All-Big Ten honors in 2012.

"Mary had a tremendous year," Coach Scott Jacobson said. "She showed tremendous spirit and fight, and we know she'll do even better."

2011-12: JUNIOR

Weatherholt had the best season of her college career landing at the No. 47 spot on the ITA Top 125. Playing all but three of her singles matches at the No. 1 position, she put together a 30-10 record in singles play. Weatherholt holds the school record for single-season combined wins (56) and winning percentage (.809).

2010-11: MEDICAL REDSHIRT

Weatherholt missed nearly all of her junior year after suffering a season-ending injury against Northwestern in January. The injury occurred early in the season, and she was granted a medical hardship to regain her junior season of eligibility.

Weatherholt was named to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll in both the fall and spring semesters. She posted a perfect 4.0 GPA in the spring and was named an ITA Scholar-Athlete following the 2010-11 academic year.

2009-10: SOPHOMORE

Weatherholt continued her assault on the Nebraska record book by rolling to a 26-6 record as a sophomore. Her .812 winning percentage placed her No. 5 on the Nebraska single-season list. She also climbed to No. 1 in career singles winning percentage (.861) with a 62-10 mark through her first two seasons at Nebraska.

Weatherholt played the season exclusively at the No. 1 or 2 positions, capturing 20 singles wins in the spring. At the end of the season, Weatherholt was named to the All-Big 12 Singles Team for the second consecutive year.

Weatherholt also had a stellar season in doubles, where she played much of the season at the No. 3 position with Jennifer Holmberg. The duo's 13 wins were second-best on the team, and their 9-1 Big 12 mark led the squad. In April, Weatherholt and Holmberg captured the Big 12 No. 3 doubles championship.

Weatherholt also found success in the classroom in 2009-10, earning first-team academic All-Big 12 honors, while claiming spots on the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll in the fall and spring semesters.

2008-09: FRESHMAN

Weatherholt turned in one of the best individual seasons in Nebraska history as a freshman in 2008-09. She started her season with a bang, winning a pair of fall tournaments, including the singles title at the Midland Invitational, on her way to a 16-2 fall singles record. Weatherholt carried her fantastic fall into the beginning of the spring season. She won her first 11 singles matches, the first 10 of those in straight sets.

Weatherholt suffered her only two losses of the spring season after her 11-0 start, falling to Baylor's Jelena Stanivuk and Texas A&M's Morgan Frank. Weatherholt rallied to win her final nine matches of the season, giving her a 20-2 spring singles record. She capped the season by being named Big 12 Freshman of the Year and also earned a spot on the All-Big 12 Singles Team. Weatherholt's singles record of 36-4 set the NU single-season record for singles wins, bettering the previous record of 30 that Sandra Noetzel set in 1998-99. Weatherholt's 50 combined wins ranked second all-time at NU, falling one short of Doneta Holmen's record of 51 wins set in 1989-90.

BEFORE NEBRASKA

Weatherholt was the top-ranked player in the state of Kansas after playing her high school tennis at Shawnee Mission South. She was the 2006 Class 6A singles champion and was ranked as high as No. 28 in the nation in the 18-and-under division. Weatherholt is the highest-ranked American-born player to ever play tennis at Nebraska.

2013 OUTLOOK

Patricia Veresova (pronounced Ver-eh-SOV-ah) is expected to be a huge contributor to the success of the Huskers in 2013. She will look to continue her role as a key factor for the Huskers in both disciplines this season. She aims to better herself and achieve first-team All-Big Ten honors after earning second-team accolades as a junior.

"Patricia will come into her own this year," Coach Scott Jacobson said. "She worked herself into great physical shape and began to compete at a level we knew she was capable of."

2011-12: JUNIOR

Veresova established herself as a collegiate star for the Huskers in her second season at Nebraska. The junior from Piestany, Slovakia, produced 52 combined singles and doubles victories in 2011-12, while climbing to No. 99 in the final ITA singles rankings.

Playing primarily out of the No. 2 spot in the Husker lineup, Veresova produced a 28-9 overall singles record, including a 24-6 mark in the spring. Veresova went 17-6 at No. 2, while adding a 3-0 record at NU's No. 1 spot and a 2-0 mark at No. 3. The junior was a second-team All-Big Ten selection after posting a 7-4 mark in Big Ten competition.

In doubles action, Veresova teamed with Mary Weatherholt to produce a 24-6 overall mark and a 22-4 record in the spring. Veresova and Weatherholt went 8-3 against Big Ten opponents with all 11 matches at the No. 2 spot. Veresova went 19-3 at No. 2 doubles and 3-0 playing out of the No. 1 spot. Overall, Veresova notched 24 doubles victories, pairing with Janine Weinreich for a win against Eastern Michigan at the No. 2 spot.

An outstanding performer in the classroom, Veresova carries nearly a 3.9 GPA as a business administration major at Nebraska. She was one of seven Huskers to capture academic All-Big Ten honors in 2012. She contributed to the tennis program capturing the Herman Award for the second straight year. This award is presented annually to the NU women's team with the highest grade-point average during the previous academic year.

2010-11: SOPHOMORE

Veresova enjoyed a breakout season for Nebraska in 2011 and quickly became one of NU's top contributors. She was plugged into the No. 2 spot in the lineup, where she compiled a 17-3 record that included an eight-match winning streak early in the season. Her overall singles mark of 21-6 led the team on the year. At the end of the season, she was named to the All-Big 12 Singles Team for her accomplishments on the court.

Veresova also excelled in doubles for NU, partnering for much of the season with fellow sophomore Janine Weinreich. The tandem went 10-5 during the spring season and played primarily at the No. 2 doubles position. Veresova also saw action at the No. 3 spot, compiling a 4-3 record.

Veresova had a strong year in the classroom as well, earning first-team academic All-Big 12 accolades. She was named to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll in both the fall and spring semesters and produced a perfect 4.0 GPA in the spring. Following the spring semester, she claimed ITA Scholar-Athlete accolades.

2009-10: FRESHMAN

Veresova sat out her freshman season at Nebraska due to NCAA eligibility rules. She was named to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll in the fall and spring semesters.

2013 OUTLOOK

Janine Weinreich (prounced VINE-rike) looks to remain a dominant threat for the Huskers in both singles and doubles. Hoping to build on her superb performance this past season, it wouldn't be a surprise to see Weinreich earn all-conference recognition this spring.

"Janine is able to really assert herself and her game on her opponents," Coach Scott Jacobson said. "I think the best is still to come for her in her senior year."

2011-12: JUNIOR

One of Nebraska's most talented and versatile players, Weinreich produced a breakout season as a junior. She climbed to No. 109 in the ITA singles rankings near the end of the season before slipping outside of the final top 125. She finished the year with a 24-6 record. She was also well ahead of Ohio State's Kelsey Dieters, 7-6, 5-2, when Nebraska's team victory was halted by inclement weather. Weinreich carried a four-match winning streak with her to the Big Ten Tournament.

She was nearly as impressive in doubles action, where she compiled a 20-8 overall record on the year, including a 19-6 spring mark. She went 7-4 in the Big Ten. Weinreich demonstrated her versatility and team-first attitude by pairing with five doubles partners on the year.

Weinreich went 3-0 at No. 2 with Stefanie Weinstein early in the spring, while adding a 1-0 mark with Patricia Veresova in the No. 2 slot. She added an 8-3 record, including a 1-2 Big Ten mark with Jennifer Holmberg. The tandem was 3-0 at No. 2 and 5-3 at No. 3. Weinreich also went 1-2 during the fall campaign while paired with Maike Zeppernick. Overall, Weinreich went 7-0 at No. 2 doubles and 12-6 at No. 3 doubles during the spring.

The Nebraska women's tennis team produced another record-breaking season in 2011-12, finishing with a 24-5 overall record. It was NU's third consecutive 20-win campaign, and the Huskers' third straight NCAA Tournament appearance. Nebraska defeated 11 nationally ranked teams in 2011-12 and finished the year with the school's highest national ranking ever at No. 16.

"I would describe this year's team as consistent," Nebraska Coach Scott Jacobson said. "They could consistently bring the passion and concentration each week during practice and game days."

Nebraska demonstrated admirable discipline and success that was well deserved and hard earned.

"This year's team was a great group of girls that cared for each other a lot, and it showed as they competed each week," Jacobson said.

The Huskers kicked off their fall campaign at the Drake Invitational, Midland Invitational, Riviera All-American and ITA Central Regionals during the fall. NU logged playing time that prepared the Huskers for one of the most successful seasons in school history.

Nebraska transitioned into the spring season with its appearance in the ITA Kickoff Classic in January. The Huskers traveled to Evanston, Ill., to knock off Arkansas 5-2, before dropping a narrow 4-3 decision to perennial power Northwestern on the Wildcats' home courts.

The Huskers bounced back in big way, running off 14 consecutive victories in February and March. It marked the fifth straight year NU unleashed at least 10 wins in a row. Nebraska's wins included triumphs over three ranked opponents, No. 75 Wyoming, No. 30 Tulsa and No. 58 Iowa in the Huskers' first-ever home Big Ten Conference match.

The most challenging portion of Nebraska's schedule came during conference play, where the Huskers faced seven ranked teams in just over a month. NU played a league slate on March 24 with a 3-4 loss to No. 50 Illinois, but regained momentum with a compelling 5-2 triumph over No. 14 Northwestern the next day in Evanston, Ill. It was the first of a five-match win streak against Ohio State, No. 46 Penn State, No. 34 Purdue and No. 45 Indiana.

After a loss to No. 14 Michigan, the Huskers countered in Big Ten action with a trio of victories against Michigan State, No. 31 Minnesota and Wisconsin.

NU's 5-2 win over No. 45 Indiana provided a memorable moment as the Huskers' 20th victory of the year. It was the team's third consecutive 20-win campaign. The Huskers finished the season tied for third in the Big Ten with Illinois at 9-2.

Nebraska entered the Big Ten Tournament with a No. 4 seed. No. 30 Purdue ended Nebraska's stay at the Big Ten Tournament, but the Huskers had more tennis to play. Purdue went on to win the Big Ten Tournament title and qualify automatically for the NCAA Tournament.

Nebraska's 24-5 regular-season record earned the Huskers their third consecutive at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament. NU traveled to the Austin Regional seeded No. 2 to face No. 56 North Texas. The Huskers rolled to a 4-0 win then fell to No. 10 Texas, which was seeded No. 1. The Huskers narrowly had their season end with a 4-2 loss to the Longhorns.

Mary Weatherholt closed out her season earning an NCAA at-large big in singles play for the Division I Women's Tennis Championships, qualifying as one of the top 64 singles players in the country. Weatherholt

Madeleine Geibert had a stellar season inking the record books of Nebraska with 156 career combined wins at third place all time. She's the winningest player in school history.

Weatherholt Named Big Ten Player of the Year

Mary Weatherholt had an amazing season in 2012 by going to the NCAA singles tournament and putting together a record of 56-6 in combined play, receiving the Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete of the Year award.

was one of only three Big Ten women's players to earn spots in the NCAA Championships in singles, joining Michigan's Emina Bektas and Northwestern's Kate Turvy. Weatherholt battled hard in the first round of the NCAA Championships but fell by a slim margin of 6-4, 7-5 to No. 13 Zsofi Susanyi of California. Weatherholt finished with 56 combined wins on the season, including 30 in singles play and 26 in doubles action. Weatherholt's 30 singles victories marked the second-highest total in school history, trailing only her 36 as a freshman in 2008-09. With a spectacular season under her belt, Weatherholt earned Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete-of-the-Year honors as a unanimous first-team All-Big Ten choice, Nebraska's Big Ten Sportsmanship Award honoree and the ITA's Arthur Ashe Leadership and Sportsmanship Award.

The Huskers closed a successful campaign with several team and individual awards. On the court, Weatherholt earned first team All-Big Ten honors while Patricia Veresova claimed second team All-Big Ten accolades. Seven Huskers added academic All-Big Ten honors, including Madeleine Geibert, Jennifer Holmberg, Weatherholt, Veresova, Janine Weinreich, Stefanie Weinstein and Maike Zeppernick. Head Coach Scott Jacobson also won Big Tean Co-Coach of the Year honors, while Hayden Perez was named the ITA Central Region Assistant Coach of the Year for the third time in six years.

The Huskers added one of Nebraska's most coveted team awards as well, claiming the Herman Award for the top cumulative grade-point average (3.644) for any female team at Nebraska. It was the third time that Coach Jacobson's squad had won NU's Team GPA award since 2005.

On the court, Nebraska's 24 team wins ranked first in school history, setting a new record, while Geibert's 181 career combined wins moved her to most of all-time at NU. Geibert and Weinstein's 26 doubles wins on the year also ranked third on Nebraska's single-season charts.

Nebraska lost seniors Geibert and Holmberg to graduation. Geibert finished her career with a record of 20-13 in singles play and 26-8 in doubles for Nebraska. Holmberg finished her career with a record of 6-3 in singles play and 10-4 in doubles play.

"This year's team was a great group of girls that cared for each other a lot, and it showed as they competed each week," Scott Jacobson said. "We told them if they could consistently bring the passion and concentration each week during practice and game days that we would accomplish great things as a team and we did."

NEBRASKA WOMEN'S TENNIS

The Nebraska women's tennis team continues its climb to national prominence after achieving its third consecutive NCAA appearance in 2012. The Huskers have notched three consecutive 20-win seasons, including a school-record 24 wins in 2012. The 2012-13 Huskers hope to contend for a Big Ten title and challenge for a chance to host the first and second rounds of the 2013 NCAA Tournament. Nebraska is one of the nation's best public universities, and student-athletes at NU receive unparalleled academic support. The Life Skills program provides Huskers with opportunities to give back to communities and grow as individuals. Nebraska student-athletes have access to the finest training and competitive facilities in the nation, and the University of Nebraska is committed to providing an atmosphere in which student-athletes are given the tools to succeed in athletics, in the community, in the classroom and in life.

CHAMPIONSHIP FACILITIES

Nebraska's top facilities are not limited to the women's tennis program. Nearly every Husker sport enjoys a venue that ranks among the nation's best.

Nebraska provides its student-athletes top-notch game-day and practice atmospheres in every sport. In 2012-13, the Nebraska men's and women's basketball and wrestling programs benefitted from the addition of the Hendricks Training Complex at the Devaney Center. The new facility includes new practice courts and a wrestling room along with expanded strength and conditioning and athletic medicine areas.

The baseball and softball teams began working out in the Haymarket Park Indoor Practice Facility in the fall of 2011.

Top left:The Nebraska Tennis Center serves as the home courts for the Huskers in both practice and competition. The facility includes indoor and outdoor courts and ranks as one of the best in the Midwest.

Middle: Nebraska's teams compete in some of the nation's finest facilities in front of large crowds. The Huskers are also committed to improving their facilities on an annual basis, including the new Hendricks Training Complex, which opened in the fall of 2011. Providing expert care to more than 600 Husker student-athletes, Nebraska features one of the most well-trained and highly skilled athletic medicine staffs in the country.

Under the guidance of Director of Athletic Medicine Dr. Lonnie Albers and Head Athletic Trainer and Physical Therapist Jerry Weber, the 2012-13 Nebraska athletic medicine staff consists of five doctors, two therapist/athletic trainers, eight athletic trainers and six graduate assistant athletic trainers.

Nebraska's team of orthopaedists is led by Chief of Staff Dr. Pat Clare, a nationally respected orthopaedic surgeon with more than 30 years of service to Husker athletics.

The Athletic Medicine Center features a hydrotherapy area that includes a three-level laned pool, which allows student-athletes across all of Nebraska's sports to work out simultaneously. The Hydroworx 1000 Treadmill Pool is equipped with two cameras underwater for evaluation and assessment, while hot and cold plunge tanks are also available to the Huskers.

The medical facilities at Nebraska have long been among the nation's best, and NU's athletic medicine center within the Tom and Nancy Osborne Athletic Complex will keep the Huskers on the front line of technology for decades to come. In addition to Nebraska's North Stadium facility, the NU Coliseum, the Bob Devaney Sports Center and Haymarket Park all feature athletic medicine areas. The Devaney Center's Athletic Medicine facility underwent an extensive expansion as part of the Hendricks Training Complex addition in 2011.

Using the best on-site medical equipment and resources in college athletics, the Nebraska athletic medicine staff provides Husker student-athletes with highly skilled medical care throughout the year.

NUTRITION

Nebraska's Sports Nutritionists Lindsey Remmers and Scott Trausch work with all 23 of Nebraska's sports by educating athletes on topics such as increasing lean body mass, losing body fat, staying hydrated, nutritional strategies for competition, maximizing recovery following workouts and supplement use. Athletes are given individualized nutrition plans that can be applied in Nebraska's Performance Buffet at the Lewis Training Table, which was remodeled and expanded in the 2010 season. In addition to utilizing the Lewis Training Table each day for lunch and dinner, student-athletes also have access to fueling stations near strength and conditioning areas to provide fluids and nutritional foods before and after workouts to maximize performance and recovery.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

The success of Nebraska student-athletes reaches far beyond athletic competition. More Husker student-athletes have been selected to CoSIDA Academic All-America teams (299) than any other school in the nation, and Nebraska has produced more NCAA Top Eight Award winners (16) than any other school. As it enters its second season of Big Ten Conference competition in 2012-13, Nebraska continues to set the standard for the approximately 1,400 NCAA member institutions.

The Husker football team leads all individual sport programs in the nation with 102 all-time CoSIDA Academic All-America awards. The Penn State football program ranks second among all sports nationally with 60 all-time academic All-Americans. In fact, Nebraska's 102 football academic All-Americans would rank among the top 25 schools (all sports, all divisions) in the nation in the number of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans. The NU volleyball program has captured more academic All-America awards (36) than any other women's team in the nation, while the Husker softball program ranks second on that list with 29 selections. Nebraska also ranks among the top 10 schools in the nation in CoSIDA Academic All-Americans in baseball, women's basketball and men's and women's track and field/cross country. Over the past two years, the men's and women's track and field programs have produced 10 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans - the most in the nation during that span.

Husker student-athletes produced another stellar year at the University of Nebraska, continuing NU's tradition of academic success. Nebraska increased its nation-leading total of CoSIDA Academic All-Americans across all sports to 299 with a Big Ten Conference-leading eight honorees in 2011-12. A two-time Nebraska Student-Athlete HERO Leadership Award winner and a four-time member of the Nebraska Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, Hitchler was accepted into medical school at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. Miller, a three-time All-American on the track, was a co-captain of both the NU women's cross country and track and field teams in 2011-12. The 2011 CoSIDA Academic All-American was NU's female recipient of the Big Ten Medal of Honor and the women's track and field team's Big Ten Sportsmanship Award winner. The track and field program added a trio of 2012 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans, led by senior Bjorn Barrefors who became just the 13th Husker in history across all sports to be a three-time academic All-American. The hard work, dedication and commitment of Nebraska's student-athletes in the classroom resulted in a record-setting 155 current or former student-athletes earning degrees from August of 2011 through May of 2012.

Each spring Nebraska hosts its annual Student-Athlete Recognition Banquet to honor Huskers who have earned either a 3.0 or higher cumulative GPA or have earned a 3.0 or higher GPA in the previous calendar year. In the spring of 2012, Husker student-athletes earned 321 academic honors medallions.

THE NEBRASKA ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

From the day student-athletes decide the University of Nebraska is the right place to be, the athletic academic counseling unit provides personal and academic support to ensure that student-athletes will get the most out of their years as Huskers. Featuring one of the most innovative and comprehensive support systems in the nation, Nebraska is dedicated to helping its student-athletes become outstanding leaders. The academic support team is comprised of 13 full-time staff members and a tutorial staff of approximately 75 tutors addressing all subject areas.

Academic Counseling

Eight academic counselors and three assistant academic counselors are in place to monitor daily academic progress, receive consistent course feedback, assist with the advising/registration process and monitor continuing eligibility and progress toward graduation. Essentially, academic counselors assist student-athletes in navigating the University of Nebraska system.

Tutorial Support

A tremendous resource for all academic abilities, unlimited tutorial support is available from day one up to college graduation. Subject and mentor tutors help provide academic support and study strategies to be successful. Supplemental Instruction, a sub-component of the tutorial program, provides targeted group review sessions to help ease the transition to college academics while improving study strategies and building academic self-esteem.

Study Hall

Nebraska's study hall program is housed in the D.J. Sokol Enrichment Center within the Student Life Complex. Student-athletes attend a supervised, flex-time study hall that features day, evening and weekend hours. Each student-athlete is required to complete a specific number of study hours each week as determined by their academic counselor and/or coach. In addition, weekly study hall reports are provided to the coaching staff. Additional performance-based or tutor-based study hall may also be determined by the academic counselor.

Mentoring

Many student-athletes meet with a mentor on a weekly basis to assist in making a smooth transition from high school to college. Mentors collect syllabi, gather and report academic progress information and teach academic success strategies.

Educational Assessments

Assessments are administered upon the request of the student-athlete, academic counselor, or coach to determine student strengths and areas for improvement. Results allow academic counselors to develop a personalized academic support program and to determine if more in-depth testing is warranted. When additional assessments are necessary, referrals are made to a consulting psychologist who conducts the assessments. If it is determined that a student-athlete has a learning disability, appropriate accommodations are made through the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities.

Student-Athlete Orientation

The academic staff coordinates New Student-Athlete Orientation to help newcomers adjust to the multiple demands of being a college student-athlete. Presentations are made by academic counselors, compliance officials, NU faculty and administrators, business/community professionals and student-athletes.

Personal Counseling

Student-athletes will find a supportive and caring environment at Nebraska. Transitional issues, stress management, time management, academic focus and problem resolution are all addressed in a proactive manner throughout the year. If necessary, counseling referrals are also made to designated practitioners.

Computer Resources

Student-athletes enjoy a new state-of-the art computer lab and technology center with 58 computers and professional supervision. Laptops are also available during team travel. Student-athletes have the benefit of ongoing education and assistance from a full-time computer technician.

The Nebraska Life Skills program helps Husker student-athletes experience the benefits of service to others while learning to expand their own leadership skills both on and off the fields of competition. The Abbott Life Skills Center is located within Nebraska's new Student Life Complex, which opened to Husker student-athletes in the fall of 2010.

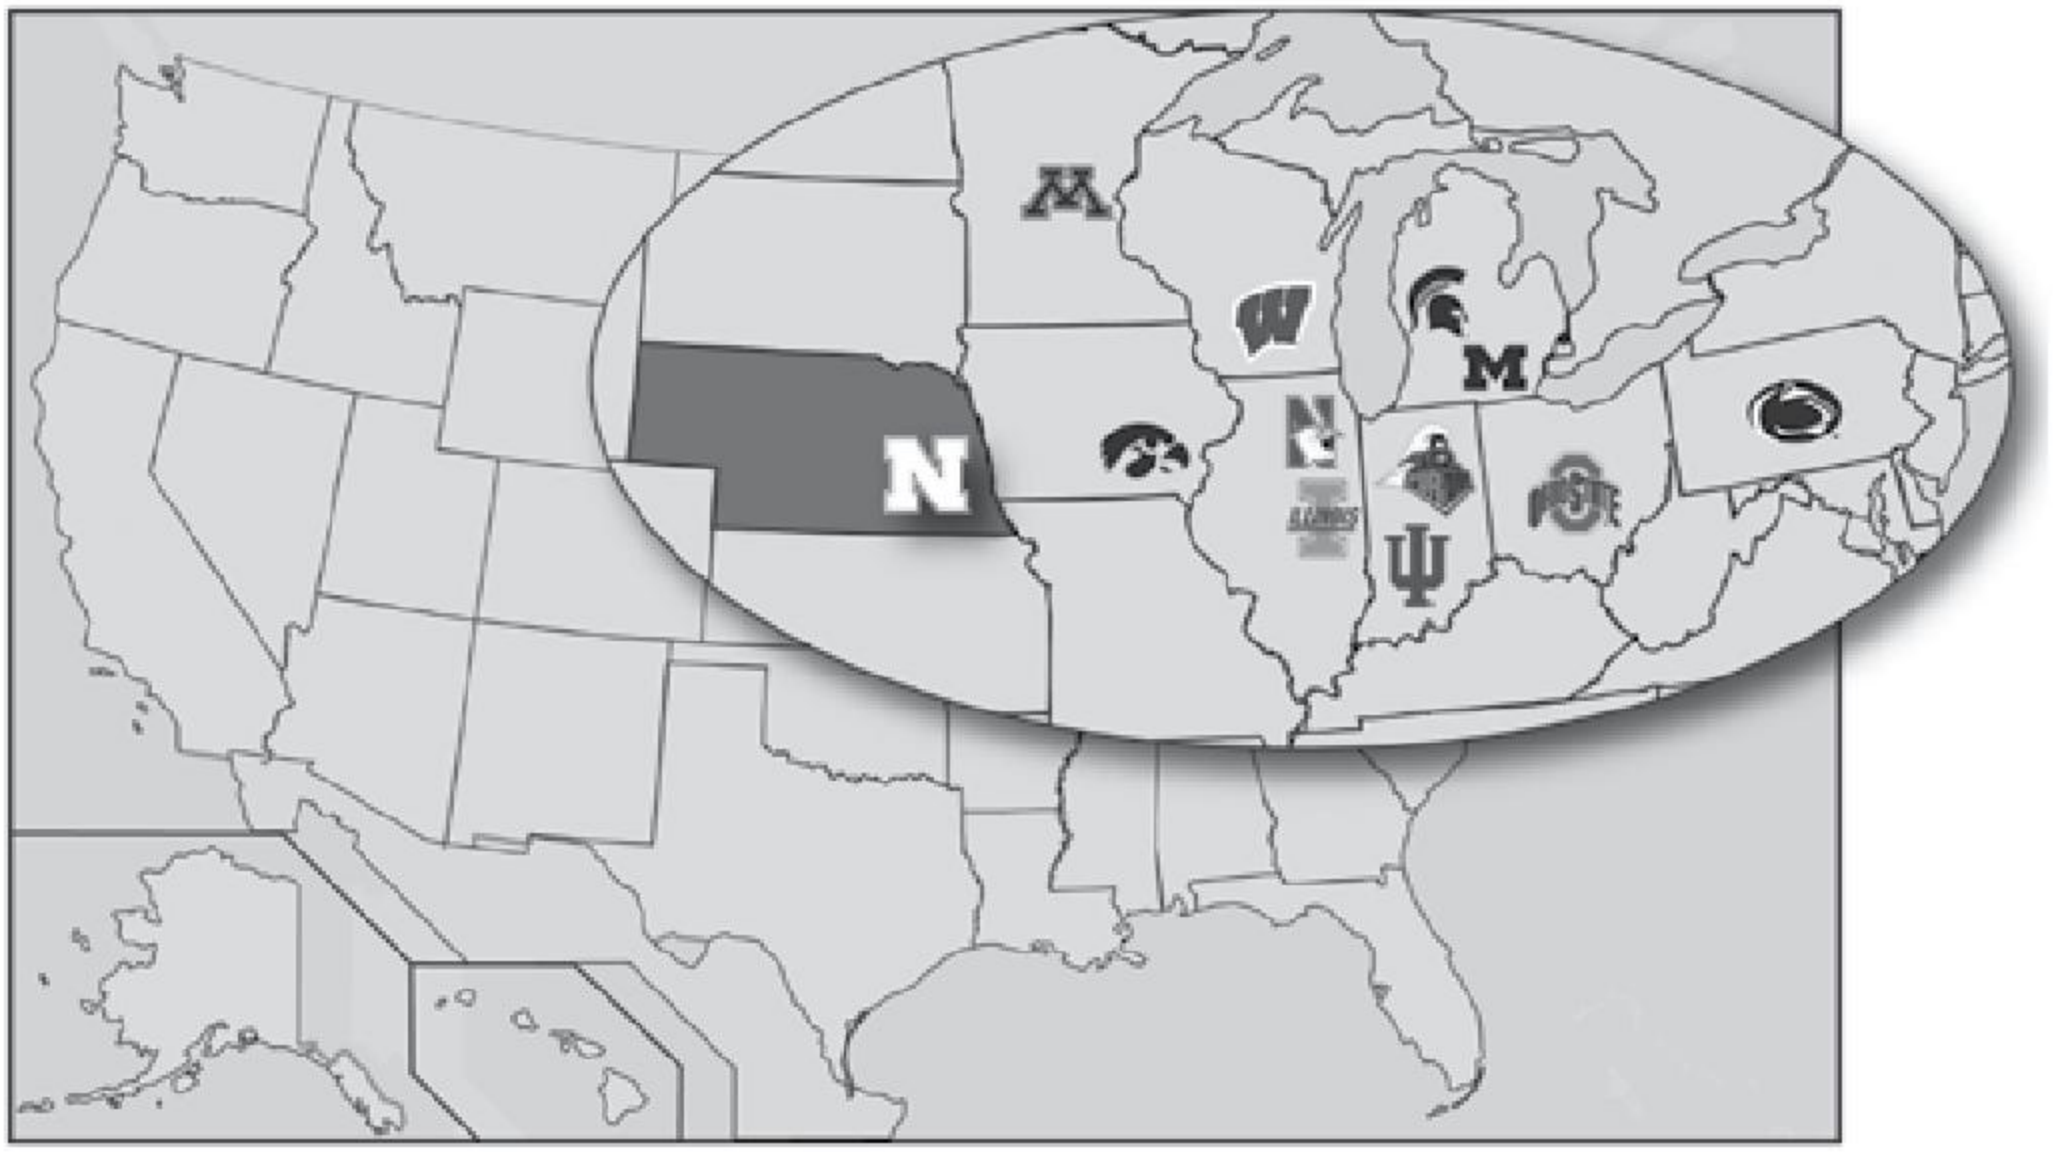
HUSKERS MAKE HISTORIC MOVE TO BIG TEN



On July 1, 2011, the University of Nebraska became an official member of the Big Ten Conference, increasing the Big Ten's membership to 12 institutions for the first time in conference history. The addition of Nebraska marked the Big Ten's first expansion since Penn State University joined the conference in June of 1990. The Big Ten Conference is a union of 12 world-class academic institutions – who share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. The conference's 100-plus years of history, strong tradition of competitive intercollegiate athletic programs, vast and passionate alumni base, and consistent leadership in innovations position the Big Ten and its entire community firmly on the Big Stage.

The Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness in all aspects of its student-athletes' lives, with the ultimate goal of ensuring that each individual has the opportunity to live a Big Life.
